The Northwood University Spring Club Management class ended in late April, with Johnson and Wales going until mid-May.

The Northwood students enjoyed speakers on Club Operations, F&B, Golf, Spa/Fitness and Events, while also touring both Jonathan's Landing and The Loxahatchee Club. The Johnson and Wales group took a more hands on approach with visits scheduled at seven clubs between Miami and Palm Beach. The tours allowed students to view a variety of operations while also allowing them to learn from a number of different Club Managers.

Classes and activities with Johnson and Wales resume in the Fall, while Northwood will pickup with the Spring Semester in January.
