Tommy Spaulding
The Spaulding Companies

Return on Relationships

Tommy Spaulding inspires audiences and teaches them how to achieve unprecedented professional and personal success by forming deeper, more authentic relationships with customers, employees, clients, and other key stakeholders.

Economists talk about Return on Investments or ROI - Spaulding argues that profits and relationships are interdependent. Spaulding proves that building a culture of authentic and genuine relationships, or what he calls Return on Relationships, will not only increase the bottom line but also transform the culture of any organization.

As a leading entrepreneur, Spaulding has the keen ability to relate each of his experiences and teaching topics to meeting and event participants. Tommy teaches your audience how to break the transactional nature of business and build an organizational culture that’s based on authentic relationships.

Brett Morris and Ed Leonard
Bridging Generations as Clubs Evolve: Innovations in Member Experience and Food & Beverage

Panelists Brett Morris (GM/COO) and Edward Leonard, CMC (Director Of Culinary Operations) will discuss the operational and culinary considerations as clubs transition from the original Baby Boomer membership base to one increasingly populated by Gen X. Their presentation will consider recent shifts in club lifestyle and some of the innovations they’ve developed to address changing tastes in dining options and menu choices, member participation in sports and fitness, and the array of social events.

Ken Okel
Even your dog thinks you’re stressed

It’s not in your head. Growing and unexpected demands on your time undermine your strengths as a leader. Your audience will gain new understanding of the importance of managing distractions and workplace stress. In this session, Ken Okel will draw upon his experiences in broadcast news, hurricane relief, and professional ballet (not a typo) and help you learn how to increase performance, strengthen organizational communication, and improve employee engagement. Whether your leadership style is like a poodle or a pit bull, you’ll leave with strategic and actionable takeaways, designed to strengthen you and your organization. This session’s interactive elements will see audience members learn how they react to an unexpected challenge, through the Paper Hat Exercise, and take part in game show style quizzes, designed to make sure they win.

Steve Tyink
What Happened to the Rock Stars?

Today BMW benchmarks against Uber, Coca-Cola against Amazon, Nike against Southwest Airlines. The world is changing…fast and the Rock Stars of yesterday have lost their way. Traditional business models are no longer relevant. Very few options are left. Increased competition and regulations, cost reductions and lack of talent. How can you re-imagine your club and thrive in today’s ever changing and demanding marketplace? This high energy, interactive presentation focuses on the revolutionary, breakthrough methodology of Member Attachment.

Dan Thurmon
Off Balance on Purpose
How do you succeed in today’s challenging, changing business climate? How do you sustain the commitment to grow personally and professionally?
Transitions of all kinds can be demanding and difficult. But these moments are also gigantic opportunities to redesign your approach to life and business. As we expand our global reach, this session will give you the encouragement and tools to take action!
In this energizing and “must see” session, Dan Thurmon, author of Off Balance On Purpose, will show you how to take charge of your circumstances, stretch your abilities, and create your blueprint for professional success!
In signature fashion, Thurmon punctuates his message with dynamic demonstrations, incorporating acrobatics, breathtaking stunts, and audience interaction to create a one-of-a-kind experience your audience will never forget.

165 Hour Interview
ALL Managers make hiring mistakes. It’s harder to get hired into Google than to be accepted into Harvard. But even Google admits almost half of their hires are mistakes. When an interviewee walks into the room, the interviewer has already reviewed their resume and determined a technical fit. The next ten seconds seals it. The first impression slants the remainder of the initial interview with confirmation bias. But work merit can’t be determined in ten seconds or even a fully unbiased hour. And the cost of those mistakes adds up quickly. A truly bad hire may be fired, but a mediocre hire just keeps costing you money.
We resolved the 10-second problem by adding 165 hours to it. The process is based on every other mistake you’ve ever made. Spill milk? You can either leave it or clean it up. The 165-hour process teaches you to clean up after your mistakes and move on.

Bill Acheson
Nonverbal Communication - The Hidden Message
In face-to-face communication, body language accounts for more than two thirds of the impact of your message. Learn how your appearance, posture, gestures, facial expression, eye contact, and voice quality impact your message. Special attention is given to gender differences and how they may account for misunderstanding.

GM Mentoring Panel
Moderated by Kurt Kuebler
Join Kurt Kuebler, of Kopplin Kuebler and Wallace as he explores the traits, expectations and realities of today’s club world and the traits and attributes needed to succeed. The panel will include some of the brightest minds in the club management world who will share their views, experiences and tales of their journey and how you too can become a “Rising Star”.

Design Thinking – Challenge the Status Quo
Q-Principle focuses on industry specific research and creates programs to deliver most innovative, relevant and pressing lesson plan topics. And one of the currently most sought after subject-matters is - “How do I change my organization to become a bigger player, be more relevant, drive higher service results and become more successful. What can I do to make a difference in my industry?” Some of these answers can be found in – “Design Thinking”

Trust Edge Experience
6 hour CMI - Leadership
Sunday, August 4
$295
Trust can be our biggest expense or greatest asset. For the trusted brand, people pay more, come back and tell others. The trusted leader is followed and the trusted salesperson is bought from.
We know how difficult it can be to develop and build high trust relationships and increase member satisfaction and engagement.
This session will build on the 7 Pillars of Trust introduced at Conference in 2018 and is packed with actionable tools you can apply to increase performance, build trust and grow in your leadership skills.

Contagious Service: How to Turn Your Members into Your Best Sales Force!

Business in the 21st century is more competitive than ever before. Members have more choices than ever before, are less loyal, more knowledgeable and way more demanding than ever before. There was a day where excellent service and going above and beyond would create a grateful, loyal member. Those days are gone. Excellent service is no longer good enough. Today’s member EXPECTS excellent service, so when it’s delivered, it is not appreciated and rewarded. It is merely what they expected. Excellent service is critical but it’s a starting point not an ending point. That’s where “contagious service” comes in. Contagious Service is more than just a set of things to do; it is a way of being and interacting that leaves a member feeling energized and like they’ve got a new friend. When that happens, they will reward you with passionate loyalty and become your best sales force in the marketplace. In this highly inspirational and thought provoking 90 minutes to half day session, you will learn the dynamics that will transform any staff into a “contagious” profit center!

Attendees will learn:

✓ How today’s member is different from any in history
✓ How being excellent is no longer good enough
✓ How to be “contagious”
✓ How to diffuse an angry member
✓ Why rapport is critical and how to create it instantly and subconsciously

David Rich is a nationally known professional speaker and best-selling author of 5 books including How to Stay Motivated on a Daily Basis and How to Click with Everyone Every Time. Why do members return again and again to a favorite store or business? It’s not just about products and price, it’s about the way people feel as they interact with your people. Do your members and guests feel cared for, like rock stars and appreciated for their business? Do you know how to leverage neuroscience and research to ensure the customer experience is memorable? Certification Programs
CMAA takes great pride in its voluntary certification programs. Since its inception in 1965, it has become recognized as the hospitality industry’s most respected certification program.

Certified Club Manager (CCM)
The Certified Club Manager (CCM) designation is the cornerstone of CMAA’s Member recognition program. It is a valuable and widely respected mark of a manager’s commitment to professional development and the club industry.

Certified Chief Executive (CCE)
The CCE designation was developed to recognize managers that have shown the ability to successfully serve as the most senior manager in a club. While the CCM designation is still the “hallmark of professionalism” within the club industry, the CCE designation is meant to augment the CCM designation.

Master Club Manager (MCM)
The MCM designation is a certification and recognition program for a special group of professionals who have made extraordinary and long-lasting contributions to the club industry.

Honor Society
This achievement is open to club managers who have achieved 400 additional credits beyond certification (minimum 150 CMAA/CMI), 10 years of membership and successful completion of BMI IV or BMI V.

The CMAA International Wine Society was founded in 1988 by a small group of club managers to meet a growing need among CMAA members – to learn more about wine and appreciate it as a true gift of nature. Through the Wine Society, members join together to enjoy and appreciate the use of wine, as well as learn about the role wine plays in club culture. Annual events include the Annual Wine and Food Workshop as well as the Conference-centered events – the Annual Business Meeting and Education Session, the Silent and Live Wine Auctions to benefit The Club Foundation and the Annual Wine Dinner. Visit the CMAA website for more information and details on joining.
