

Cynthia "Cindy" Ol Delcamp (nee O'Brien), of Winter Haven, FL passed away Tuesday, July 21, 2015. She was 63 years old.

Cindy is survived by her children, Mary Delcamp and Bartholomew Delcamp of Winter Haven, FL; Alexander Delcamp of Vero Beach, FL; her husband, John Delcamp of Winter Haven, FL; her sister Sharon Helfrich of Cherry Hill, NJ; her sister Colleen Mortimer of Port Matilda, PA; her sister Diane Cavalero of Butler, PA; her brother Joe of Jameston, PA; her brother Patrick of Fenelton, PA; her brother Chris of Glendale, AZ; her brother Tom of Phoenix, AZ; her brother Kevin of Hawaii; and her brother Eric of Winterville, NC.

Cindy was born on July 6, 1952 in Butler, PA to Bill and Elsie O'Brien. The second-oldest of ten children, Cindy was always dedicated to taking care of her family. She attended college in Michigan before moving to Florida and meeting her husband. Despite the distance, she always remained close to her siblings, spending hours with them on the phone and visiting whenever possible.

Cindy and John had many adventures together, including a brief stint living abroad in the Bahamas before having their first child and relocating back to the States. The following years included many sports events, band concerts, graduation ceremonies, and traveling. She loved many places in the United States but the beaches in Florida were her very favorite.

She spent a number of years dedicated as a volunteer to the Regenerations shop of St. Matthew Catholic Church. Though times were not always easy, she kept a sharp, sneaky sense of humor and a special laugh for when you knew things were very funny. She was a devoted wife and mother, an avid reader, an excellent cook, a wonderful gardener, and the kindest soul.

A funeral Mass will be held on Monday July 27, 2015, at 8:30 am at Saint Matthew Catholic Church, located at 1991 Overlook Drive in Winter Haven, FL. A reception will be held immediately following the funeral Mass in the church hall.

In lieu of flowers, please send contributions to the American Lung Association at www.lung.org/donate and 55 W. Wacker Drive, Suite 150, Chicago, IL 60601.